

Melanie Behrens

Melanie is a dog trainer, a USDAA agility judge and a licensed veterinary technician. She directs the canine rehabilitation facility at Flannery Animal Hospital in New Windsor, NY, providing physical therapy for dogs after surgery or injuries, or just for conditioning or treatment for arthritis. She lives in Pleasant Valley, NY with her husband and three dogs.

Melanie first started doing agility with "Red," a Rhodesian Ridgeback in 1998. Red taught her a great deal about how to motivate a dog, as well as how to train a dog with a limited attention span and would not repeat things. Red earned his USDAA PJ1, NADAC O-NAC and O-NJC, and AKC OA and OAJ titles. Running Red has given Melanie a different perspective about agility. It's not just about winning, it's about having fun with the dog you love.

Melanie now has three border collies, Elf, Zim and Dance, who represent the other side of the coin in agility – fast dogs that love agility and require very timely handling skills. Elf has achieved ADCH/LAA Platinum and has her AKC MACH title. Zim has his ADCH LAA Bronze title in USDAA and MX MXJ in AKC. Zim is also becoming a sheepdog as well as an agility dog

Melanie attends agility seminars and camps every year in order to remain current in her training and handling skills, and often competes in the USDAA Nationals Cynosport event.

Melanie is also a USDAA Masters judge and has been judging since 2001. Judging has developed her knowledge of the rules and design requirements for each class and has helped her develop a keen understanding of ways for all teams to succeed even in the events that require strategy to succeed.
